

Other Programs Available

SpeechKids is the therapeutic private practice of Crisler Lovendahl, M.A., CCC-SLP, and her associates. Therapists specialize in Sensory Integration and Related Disorders, including Oral Motor/Feeding/Apraxia therapy.

Play Partners is a team of trained and supervised paraprofessionals fostering social emotional development. Goals focus on achieving regulation and mutual engagement through a range of emotions, circles of communication, and expression of symbolic and emotional ideas. Sessions are conducted individually and in Friendship Groups.

Classroom Connection consultants strive to integrate and balance the many aspects of a child's educational and developmental programming. Through team collaboration and problem-solving, each child's program is individualized with custom-made materials in eight domains including: personal-social, self-help, fine and gross motor, auditory comprehension, and expressive language, cognitive/academic, and cultural literacy.

The Clinical Consortium is a professional opportunity for master therapists to treat in a trans-disciplinary and collaborative environment.

This model allows families to obtain a comprehensive therapeutic program in one location with professionals who are committed to working together to create a successful program.

THE OT KIDS VISION

The OTKids program eclectically blends creative and innovative methodologies with traditional principals to create a dynamic and diverse setting.

Core issues addressed include: sensory processing, social-emotional development, ideation, gross motor, fine motor, visual processing and activities of daily living. In addition, our Occupational Therapy practice places an equal emphasis on hand development from a variety of handwriting programs. For tweens and teens, goals focus on internalizing regulation and modulation strategies for optimal participation and learning.

At OTKids, we specialize in treating children with Sensory Processing Disorders and/or PDD and Autism Spectrum. We treat the whole child and include the entire family incorporating an eclectic, collaborative approach. Family participation during therapy sessions and home programming activities become important pieces to the child's progress. Collaboration among parents, the educational team, and clinic based therapists is a priority to creating a comprehensive program supporting success.
